DEDICATION

DEDICATION

Life at its best and greatest is the practicing of those Christian principles and virtues which go for developing character.

We, the class of 1946, feel that we have found one who has displayed kindness, understanding, sympathy, willingness to help others, and patience without any selfish desire.

Therefore, it is highly desirable that we, the seniors of 1946, dedicate this, our Berry Bush, to Mr. Harry Campbell, who through his strong personality has aided in leading us to our ultimate goal.

May we always retain our respect for you.

LEAVING

*We are growing onward,
Towards our goal in life
Looking upward, forward,
Fearless of war and strife.*

*Sure, this world is for us,
You have made it so;
We will make it better,
Since you let us go.*

*Our trials and errors seem natural,
You pointed them to us all right;
Now give us a chance to correct them,
And aid the old world from its plight.*

*Maybe from the spring of learning,
You thought we didn't drink;
Now, we hope to show you,
The results of making us think.*

*Boys become men when they're needed,
Girls, will be ladies, that's true;
Just look at the roll of honor,
We'll show you what Cranberry can do.*

*Now don't lose faith in us, teachers,
We think we will do O. K.
We may act fickle or flighty,
We're sure you acted that way.*

*So long to advisors, and teachers,
Fellow students, we're sure you will grieve;
Let's step right up to the firing line
Be brave ever after your leave.*

Class of 1946:

May I congratulate you for having successfully completed your high school career, and extend to you my best wishes for your future happiness and success.

Your success in life will be judged, not by the amount of worldly goods which you may be able to accumulate; nor will it be judged by the notoriety or power which you may attain. Your success will be judged by the degree to which you have lived up to your ideals and by the contributions which you may have made toward making the world a better place in which to live.

May you ever live up to your highest ideals, and may each succeeding year find you farther on the road to success.

W. A. Stewart

To the seniors of 1946:

Kindly accept my compliments upon your successful accomplishments throughout your high school career.

Accept life optimistically; use your abilities and talents in serving not only yourself but your fellow man.

May your lives be filled with happiness and prosperity.

Kenneth Snyder

Class of '46:

Graduation was formerly to you a goal. Your acquirements in realization should now permit a more discerning approach to that greater goal—a truly richer life. Apply your attitudes, abilities, and acquired materials to its achievement.

Congratulations to you on your accomplishments!

Helen Connell

To The Class of 1946:

You have reached another goal in the marathon of life. In this race, you have experienced competition; this competition is only a sip in comparison with the competition of life.

It is my sincere hope that you have acquired information and courage to face the buffetings of life bravely.

Mr. Zagst

Mr. Graham

Mr. Friggle

Mr. Tarr

FAULK-SIMPSON AND BEEBE-BUSCH WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Miss Patricia Leicht and Miss Norma Lalley, nationally known columnists for the Tallway Tattler, covered the two outstanding weddings of the year.

The Faulk-Simpson wedding took place by the glowing fireplace in the Faulk Redwood Mansion at 11:60 p. m. last night. The bride, Miss Ellen Faulk, was attired in a lime-green, burlap formal touched off by purple dots. She carried a bridal bouquet of red orchids.

Miss Ardell Oakes, close friend of the bride was gowned in a flowing formal of pink satin and carried a bouquet of dog-tooth violets. Mr. James Clark was the best man. Both the groom and the best man wore a bountionier of bachelor buttons.

Alice Perrett and Evelyn Standley, famous cooks of New York City, served a delicious dinner of raisins, nuts, and apple juice cocktail to 250 out-of-town guests.

The Beebe-Busch wedding took place in the Purity Milk Dairy. The 300 head of cattle were moved to make room for the young couple and their guests consisting of the preacher, Rev. Glenn Alcorn, the matron of honor and the best man.

Miss Beebe made a lovely picture in her cotton gown trimmed with Purity milk caps. The dress was designed by Maxine Nunemaker and Shirley Fox of New York City who are famous fashion designers. While on her way from Boston to meet Mr. Busch, Miss Beebe saw the dress modeled by Miss Marian Stephens in one of the outstanding stores on Fifth Ave.

Mrs. June Clifford Stewart, neighbor of the bride and vocalist for her husband's orchestra, was the matron of honor. Charles G. Stewart, famous orchestra leader in a New York night club, was the best man. The matron of honor was draped in a black, marquisette gown with a fitted bodice and carried a bouquet of Stephanotis and wore gold slippers on her slender, well-shaped feet. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart entertained the cows and the guests by introducing some excellent new dance steps and by singing.

A delicious meal of butter, hay, cream and buttermilk was served to the 300 cows and the 20 guests who were present.

Rev. Glenn M. Alcorn was paid 1 pound of butter for officiating with the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Busch will journey to Sugar Creek to spend two hours for their honeymoon.

CANTEEN FOR TEENS

Last night was the opening night for the "Canteen for Teens," established by Miss Marlyn Fletcher. The canteen will be open every Friday night from 8:30 p. m. to 11 p. m.

The canteen was established with the hopes that juvenile delinquency may be better controlled. It is thought that, by providing good, clean fellowship with other young people, such a goal may be attained.

Miss Fletcher has acquired the Royal Melody Makers, an all girl orchestra, to provide the music for the dance. Miss Margaret Fischer, director of the orchestra, stated that the five members of her well-organized troubadours have been practicing "Old Black Joe" for two years and she thus feels that they are quite capable of this high honor of playing for the canteen. Those showing such outstanding talents were accepted some of which were Jeanne McKinney, Pianist; Jacqueline Bartley, Drummer; Margaret McKenzie, sweet potatoist; Maxine Sadler, guitarist; and Eva Ziegler, harpoonist, for the lonely maidens. All these fine musicians are graduates of Cranberry High School and the Fishy School of Music.

INVENTION

Secretary of Agriculture, Raymond Karns, states that an invention has been accepted into the Agricultural field. The unscrupulous Maurice Lutz and John Beebe succeeding in starting a new strain of chick through the internationally known Clarkson Brother's Peach Defuzzer, Inc. Erwin and Goodman were their instigators because of the former errors of Red McKinney's experiments with red chickens.

Mr. Keniston, a young poultry enthusiast, feels that defuzzed chickens will be of particular value to the housewives as a time-saver.

BLOOD BANK FOR AUTO

A modern Filling Station was erected on the corner of Erwin St. and O'Neil Ave., in Jerkwater, Pennsylvania several months ago. Just drive in and you get a transfusion, windshield washed, "erl" checked and a general overhauling. Such articles as motormeter, disconnecting rod, gasgeeters, etc., are taken care of by Miss Alice Paup and the chief mechanic is Twila Motter who was formerly employed in the Ford Motor Company. She now has established the Motter T. Ford Inc.

MOVIE STAR FEARS ABDICATION

Cass Daley, a well-liked actress, has become worried about her position in the theatrical field. A werewolf of Cranberry fame, Mary Jane Wagner, is competing with Cass in attempting to catch a man. The famous Hollywood producer, Mr. Robert Hahn, states that Miss Wagner is so successful in failing to capture a man that the leading part in the production "Uncaptured Homosapiens" which shall be in the making next month will undoubtedly be filled by Miss Wagner. She uses as her philosophy, "Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

HIT-RUN CATASTROPHE

Sgt. Butch Lillard of the Valley View police force was struck at 2:30 a. m. today while patrolling his beat by a hit-run driver. Just before being struck, he saw a tan '39 Chevy approach at 60 miles per hour.

Sgt. Lillard regained consciousness at 8:30 this morning giving Tuffy Stephens the description of the car from which to start his investigation. Chief of Police Stephens, and his five deputies, Timid Brown, Lanky Hazlett, Delicate Hornburg, Husky Vogan, and Burly Bickel started the investigation at once. District Attorney Ralph Daugherty and his secretary, Miss Black were called upon to help out.

After combing the city, young Fasemyer was found and he admitted he had been driving with one arm. He was fined $10 and will spend 30 days at the Valley View Jug.

NOBEL PRIZE WINNER

Miss Imogene Johnson, General Electric "Tub Chemist," has received the Nobel Prize for her excellent contribution to the scientific world. She has spent many long, hard hours in her laboratory studying and experimenting with the Atom. She has accomplished putting the most intricate puzzle together and consoles the world not to worry about the tests for the atom bomb because she can put the world together with her eyes closed anyhow.

She has also found through her research work, the 94th element called "Imogenium," a heavy metal which no doubt will be used for the manufacturing of dirigibles because of its weight. We feel she has been rightfully awarded the Nobel Prize. The 93rd element was founded by Miss Joan Hill and Miss Nora Mae Fredrick in 1944.

CLASS HISTORY

Just six years ago a forlorn looking group of seventh graders entered the portals of Cranberry High School, with all of our childish desires to run home to mama. The place was so large and the teachers so different looking.

All we did during our first week here was to find our home rooms and change class rooms—we weren't used to that—and get used to more rules.

Our home room teachers were Miss Turchek, Miss Bender, and Miss Anderson (all have gone, but the memories linger on.) Our seventh year ended with very few failures and thus we ascended the stairs to the second floor to be pushed and scutched about by the upper classmen who thought they were hot stuff. Our home room teachers were Miss McBride and Miss Harter—Dan Cupid changed their names and they are no longer teaching other people's children.

Well, time forced us along to the Freshman year. We descended the stairs to rooms one and two with Miss Etzel and Mr. Adams as our guides. They are still here—Hoping—

This year we found a practically new faculty with Mr. Stewart, our supervising principal and Mr. Snyder our new principal.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore Reception was held at which we all had a very enjoyable time. We were all thrilled about having something given in our honor.

We managed to struggle through the Freshman year and again ascended the stairs to rooms 7 and 11 for our Sophomore year with Mr. Campbell and Mr. McCanna as our teachers. Mr. Campbell is still with us, which is an advantage to Cranberry but Mr. McCanna left us to serve in the U. S. Navy.

This year we had our first real responsibility, the Freshman-Sophomore Reception. Committees were appointed and we got to work on it immediately. It was a success and everybody enjoyed themselves.

Now we are really getting up in the world. We succeeded to the Junior year with Miss Black and Mr. Allen as our home room teachers. Many activities took place during the year. The ring committee picked our class rings and we presented our Junior Class play, "You Said It." Under the untiring efforts of Miss Morrison and Miss Price, it proved a success.

Here it is, the Junior-Senior Prom! In one corner you can see a group making decorations and another discussing the refreshments for it. Our big night came and we really thought it super to be going out in formals.

Finally our last step on the ladder is reached. Oh! How proud we are to be Seniors!

The Senior year is probably the most eventful year in one's school life.

Our first job was to publish our school paper; namely, the "Hi-Light." Next the cast was chosen for the Senior play, "He Couldn't Marry Five," under the capable direction of Miss Etzel and Miss Connell. This play also proved a success. Next there was the stationery sale and the sale of magazines. The winning team of the magazine sale enjoyed a steak dinner at the Venetian Dining Room. The Berry Bush Staff was then appointed by Mr. Zagst and progressive work was begun at once.

Now it is spring and our memories drift into the last month of our Senior year. Everybody is getting a little lazier as spring fever approaches us. Now we are beginning to think the saying "School days are the happiest days of your life," is true. There is Baccalaureate, then Commencement which ends our high school life.

Now we are ready to go out into the world and enter into the field in which we have prepared ourselves. We hope we will be a credit to the teachers and to our school.

OUTSTANDING SHOPPE

A recent news bulletin announced that two very fine young ladies, formerly of Western Pennsylvania, have been operating a Beauty Salune in Harlem, New York City.

They opened last week and more than two thousand have been taken care of in that short time. Miss Virginia Mays and Miss Irene Moore are the more than capable operators. To accommodate such a large volume of business, they had to stock up on a staggering amount of books on "How to Get the Kink Out of Your Hair." The book was written by these two young ladies in hopes that the Negroes would make it possible to relieve some of their demand for lubricating oil so that it may be shipped to the fighting front.

STAGE SHOW

The Blue Sky Open Theater announced over Station AIR that a stage show will be the chief attraction of the year. Miss Betty Cameron, Miss Catherine O'Neil and Miss Charlotte Sarver, famous ballet dancers, journey from the musty streets of Broadway. These graceful figures will perform for two hours.

Miss Beatrice Speerstra, vocalist for the disbanded Glenn Miller Orchestra will sing well-known ballads for the Metropolitan Opera goers.

Ruth Hepler of Meade Home Economics renown is a famous interior decorator and was hired by the owner of the Blue Sky Open Theater to decorate the stage for this coming attraction.

Recreation Establishment

A new, combination, skating rink, bowling, dancing, ice-skating, swimming, and shuffle board building has been constructed on Speed Avenue of Fairview. Betty Schoonover and Ruth Irwin are the proprietors of the Recreational Center. They have hired several instructors to hold classes for those who wish to learn to indulge in these sports. Neva Ziegler will instruct skaters; Mildred Rodgers, instructor of dancing and shuffle board; and Maxine Cauvel will instruct those wishing to swim. To acquire full membership in this organization, you must accomplish certain qualifications in all of the sports. You will then receive the "Easy Duzzit" certificate of membership.

FORSAKEN CAREER

Mr. Allen Stranford of dry cleaning fame has forsaken this occupation to edit the "Famous Little Black Book Series" to be used by unthinking students. Some of his customers are numbered to one-hundred, mostly the progeny of Dimeling, Weaver, Davis, and Miller fame.

JOKES

"I love you, Ouch!"

"I love you, Ouch!"

And you have, in a nutshell, the story of two porcupines necking.

The reason no woman has ever married the man in the moon is because he only makes a quarter a week, gets full once a month, and stays out all night.

She: "Hi, Pop, do you ever have a squeak in the rear of your car?"

He: "Nope, I always leave my wife at home."

Customer: "These eggs are a bit stale, aren't they, Miss?"

Waitress: "Don't ask me. I only laid the table!"

A decrepit old car wheezed up to the toll bridge.

"Fifty cents," shouted the gate man.

"Sold," said the driver.

There was a man named McComb Who was cleaning his pants in his home,

He used gasoline—

That's the last that was seen

Of McComb or his pants or his home.

"I never felt so punk in all my life."

"Do any drinking last night?"

"Yes, and when I went to bed I felt fine. But when I woke up I felt terrible. It was the sleep that did it."

Do you remember the sailor who, when asked what he had done with his wages, answered, "Part went for liquor, part for women, and the rest I spent foolishly."

"A cow on a curve ain't half so dangerous as a curve on a calf."

WHOA! Sweet Young Thing (leaning out of the window): "Hey, ice man, do you have the time?"

Ice Man: "Sure, but who's going to hold the horses?"

Wife—(to late returning husband) "Is that you, John?"

John—"It'd better be!"

"Does the foreman know the trench has fallen in?"

"Well, sir, we're diggin' him out to tell him."

"How's yer wife, Jack?"

"She do be awful sick."

"Is ut dangerous she is?"

"No, she's too weak to be dangerous any more!"

Farmer's wife (to druggist): "Now be sure and write plain on them bottles which is for the horse and which is for my husband. I don't want nothin' to happen to that horse before spring plowin'."

Gently he pushed her quivering shoulders back against the chair. She raised beseeching eyes in which faint hope and fear were struggling. From her parted lips, the breath came in short, wrenching gasps. Reassuringly he smiled at her. Bzzzzzzz, went the dentist's drill.

And then there was the fellow who offered his new girl friend a Scotch and sofa. She reclined.

They laughed when I came in with shorts, but when I sat down they split.

How polite the Privates are:

A private was dancing with his girl at the U. S. O.—A Lieutenant cut in on a Private—The Private stepped back, smiled, and gave him the whole floor (a piece at a time.)

Bob—Why did you leave your girl's house so early the other night?

Chuck—We were sitting on the sofa and she reached up and turned out the light. I guess I can take a hint!

Max—What is the cure for love at first sight?

Shirley—Second sight.

Margie—Clothes often make the men.

Ardell—Clothes often fake them, too.

Jeanie—Do your shoes hurt?

Mickie—No, but my feet do.

Dick—Do you go steady?

Jerry—I don't wear this ball and chain for decoration!!

Margie—It's lovely weather out today isn't it?

Lee—And there's plenty of it, too.

Ship's Captain: Oh, there goes eight bells. Excuse me. It's my watch below.

Old Lady—Gracious! Fancy your watch striking as loud as that.

"It's scandalous to charge us $10.00 for towing the car only 3 or 4 miles," protested the motorist's wife.

"Never mind dear," replied Hubby. "He's earning it; I've got my brakes on."

Old Photographer: See the dickey bird.

Modern Child: Just pay attention to your exposure, focal length, distance, and lighting, so that you don't ruin the plate.

Mrs. Andrews: These sausages you sent me are meat at one end and breadcrumbs at the other.

Butcher: Yes, madame, in these hard times it is difficult to make both ends meat.

Boastful Visitor: Yes, Sonny, at home I have a little Spaniel that knows as much as I do.

Small Boy: Why don't you trade him in for a Fox Terrier? They're SMART dogs!

Little Mary was left to fix the lunch, and when her mother returned with a friend, she observed that Mary had strained the tea.

"Did you find the lost strainer, dear?" mother inquired, as they were eating.

"No, mother," replied helpful Mary. "I used the fly swatter."

Jane—"How old are you?"

Mabel—"I just turned twenty-three."

Jane—"I get it. Thirty-two."

Jack: "Didn't she let you kiss her?"

Bob: "O heavens no! She isn't that kind."

Jack: "She was to me."

Angry Father: "What do you mean by bringing my daughter in at this hour of the morning?"

Max Alcorn: "Well, I had to be at work at seven."

Visitor: "Well, little girl, what are you going to do when you grow up to be a big girl like your mother?"

Little Girl: "Diet, of course."

Ginney: Whenever I see a wheat field, I think of Mother Nature.

Peg: Whenever I see a corn field, I think of "Fodder" Nature.

Two robbers were robbing a train. The bigger one said, "First, we'll rob all the men and then kiss all the women."

The little robber said, "Oh, let's just rob the men."

An old maid sitting in the back seat said, "You shut up, you little shrimp. You heard what the big man said!"

Butch: "Why do bees sting?"

Carl: "I suppose because they're mad."

Butch: "You'd be mad too, if someone stole your honey and nectar!"

"TURKEY TROT" ENJOYED BY ALL

We, the seniors, all working together, planned and held a dance in the auditorium on the evening of November 16. Being so near to the Thanksgiving season we called it the "Turkey Trot". Decorations were in rhyme with the season, being decorated with corn stalks and pumpkins. As Mr. Zagst took tickets he handed out programs, which were made for us by Miss Black.

Mr. Adams operated the juke box. That is he took care of the records for the night. The dance was a
